THE Canadian department of marine has undertaken to perform an unprecedented feat, namely, to tow an island out of the way of navigation. A large piece of marsh land became ded at Rat Portage, and sailors noticed an island floating around in the Lake of the Woods. The mayor of the town telegraphed to Ottawa, and the has telegraphed its agent to secure a tug and tow the island out of the way of navigation and moor it, as it is most dangerous.

WASHINGTON, Sept., 6. The regular fall civil service examinations throughout the country for all classes of gov ernment offices, will muster only about a quarter or a third of the usual num ber of candidates. This is the prediction made by the civil service commission, and Chief Examiner Serven at tributes this falling off to the unusual number of applicants examined during the spring, when a high water mark was reached, the number of applicants examined then being an increase of 100 preceding due to the change of administration and the civil service extensions made by President Cleveland. As a result and in view of an inadequate examining force the commission is far in arrears in marking the papers, and 14,000 of them, all submitted during the spring examinations, have yet to be reached for marking.
